LIDL US

Arlington, VA

Promotions Manager / Senior Promotions Manager

- Created and implemented the enterprise-wide promotional strategy for Lidl's expansion into the US market, growing the promotional business to $91M in annual sales from scratch. My team was in charge of planning all limited time offers, seasonal assortments, price discounts, off-shelf store placements, and the content of the weekly flyer, for all categories across the store.
- Developed and implemented a comprehensive set of team processes, leveraging best practices from Lidl's international organization and adapting them to meet the unique demands of the US market, establishing my team's role within the organization.
- Completed comprehensive financial planning, responsible for both tops-down annual planning and bottoms-up weekly demand planning, ensuring accurate forecasts and healthy financial performance.
- Fostered career development and allocated workload as the leader of a team of direct reports, ensuring all objectives were met and talent was effectively managed and developed.
- Monitored competitors' flyers, seasonal assortments, and merchandising strategies as part of in-depth analysis of the US grocery market, ensuring that Lidl's promotional offerings were precisely targeted for the US consumer.

TARGET CORPORATION

Minneapolis, MN

Business Analyst / Senior Business Analyst

- Managed inventory portfolio for shampoo, conditioner, and hair styling products across the entire chain and online – a $739M business with over 1,400 SKUs and $100M of average inventory. Delivered instock results 50 BP better to goal, while simultaneously reducing average inventory by $9M over the fiscal year.
- Forecasted future demand for promotional events in a category highly sensitive to promotional activity and complex discount layering, improving promotional instocks by 300 BP. Designed an automated tool to accurately predict the extent of discount layering, receiving approval from company "best method council".
- Conducted department-wide analysis of inventory allocation relative to sales and developed actionable recommendations, leading to over $6M of unproductive inventory reduction.
- Successfully executed the launch of over 350 new items and 22 endcaps, setting above instock goal in every cycle and helping drive strong YOY sales growth of 8%.
